The sun beams in the east are gred Lient Loue fayre bide yo<sup>e</sup> solitary bide 46
No more shal yo<sup>e</sup> returne to it alone
It myneth sadnes by yo<sup>e</sup> bodes come 47
Lik to agraine the yolding downe doth dese Yo<sup>e</sup> and yo<sup>e</sup> other yo<sup>e</sup> mote ther anon Out forth put forth that ~~warm~~ balme brething they Out when next you yo<sup>e</sup> in those sheets will smother
There it must myneth another Wh mowd was but you must be more myght Come glad from thence yo<sup>e</sup> gladder then yo<sup>e</sup> can To night put on perfusion & awomans name

Daughters of London yo<sup>e</sup> in th<sup>e</sup> tow Our golden myrys and furnisht treasury yo<sup>e</sup> wh are Angels yo<sup>e</sup> shall bring in yo<sup>e</sup>
The ffeare of Angels on yo<sup>e</sup> mariage dayes
Conceivly draf her, to be alighte By yo<sup>e</sup> fitt place for evry ~~faul~~ flower & jewell make her for lowe fitt fowle
As gay as flora, & as rich as Inde
So may she faire & rich & in nothing laune Butt on perfusion & awomans name

And yo<sup>e</sup> froigne<sup>m</sup> Patricians
Some of yo<sup>e</sup> creatures, welch's, Deuge Oceans ~~Welch Deuge Ocean~~ yo<sup>e</sup> painted Courliers, Barrells of others with yo<sup>e</sup> Cuntrymen w<sup>t</sup> his yo<sup>e</sup> boates lout none yo<sup>e</sup> of these fellow shipis wherof his is one of studdy and play made strong Hermyphrodites Hear thynne this bridgrome to the Temple bring So in yo<sup>e</sup> path w<sup>t</sup> store of flowers gracest the sober virgin pacell Except my right faili & is ave other thing W<sup>t</sup> wop not me blus hauis me grief nor blus to day putt on perfusion and awomans name

Thy two blan'de gats faire Temple unfold & their two in thy sacred boosome hold Till mystically joyned both in one they have Then may thy bane and hunger starv'de womb Long time expos'd thayre bodies, & thayre tomb Long after thayre own parents fatten them
All other dayes as all othe barrennes All yelding to new hauys so fair for euer which mighte these two differ Always the each other may the each one profit for the best bides, last worthy of proufe & fam to day putt on perfection & awomans name

O winter Davis bring much delight not for them blust, but for they soon bring myght Other sweets waite then than those Divers onely other disports then dauncing whist other low tricks then glauncing in the eyt
But if the sun still in a half sphere sweetes Hot flies in winter, but now his stands still wth shaddows turne, noon, point he last attayn'd his steds will be restrained But gallop Lively downe the neborne hill Thou shalt when he last run the worlds halff round putt on perfection and awomans name.

The amorous Euing star is sofe why shoudt not then a Amorous star enclofe her self in her wifard bed, rebuff the strings Musicians, & Dauncers take some truce wth thayre wylfing labours, for great rufe a much wearines, as perfiction brings y<sup>e</sup> d<sup>e</sup> and not only y<sup>e</sup> d<sup>e</sup> but all ryght beasts Residuly at night all thayre toyles are dispoyfis
But in thayre beds Comoncd Are other labours, & more dainty feasts Shew gods aman, who hast the turne the same To myght putt on perfection & awomans name.
